We, the Class of 1965

dedicate this Book to genesis

Created from the strange and the new,
From void to reality the college grew.
Rising from sweat of the mental and physical,
Foundation sure, tolerant, not imperical,
Bloomfield College emerged from the dark
Sending her children to make their mark.
Once the seed of life's bold edge,
Now the planters of man's knowledge.
They harvest better fruits of the mind
Reaping the crop at the peak of time;
They launch into depths unknown—
Flourishing products of the seed once sown.
This is Bloomfield, ever nourished
With minds and spirits to be cherished.
This is Bloomfield, who discarded the old,
Lover of the mind, the soul, and the bold.
Favoring the new, respecting the past,
Forever ascending, progressing so fast,
Her leaders and learners, alumni and friends
Aspire to oneness by uniting all ends.

DR. DR. RALPH N. CALKINS
Dean of the College

Dedication

He came to Bloomfield in 1949 as an instructor of Economics. There was no library then, and no gymnasium, and no Schwietzer Hall and no Clee Hall. Austin Hall was an elementary school then and students lived on the top floor of Seibert and when the college grew, it grew around him.

For sixteen years, eleven of them as Dean of the College, he has poured his talents and his time and his incredible energy into this school. We have taken four years of our lives from Bloomfield but he has given her sixteen years of his and each building, each book, each student owes him a debt which cannot be paid and yet, by their very existence, is paid.

We know all this and soon it will matter to us but it is not what matters now. What matters now is his accessibility to us, his acceptance of each of us as an individual, his generosity with his time and his counsel on problems whether academic or personal. What matters is that he has pursued his own education with the same tenacity and dedication with which he has urged us to pursue ours. What matters is that he is on the campus and his door is open and his advice is good.

It is now 1965 and there is a Library and a Gymnasium and a Schweitzer Hall and a Clee Hall. Liberty Hall is a memory and the new science building is more than a dream. Now he is Dean of the College and we, the Class of 1965, with respect for him as administrator, with gratitude to him as advisor, with thanks to him as a friend, proudly dedicate our Saga to

DR. RALPH N. CALKINS
DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT OF BLOOMFIELD COLLEGE

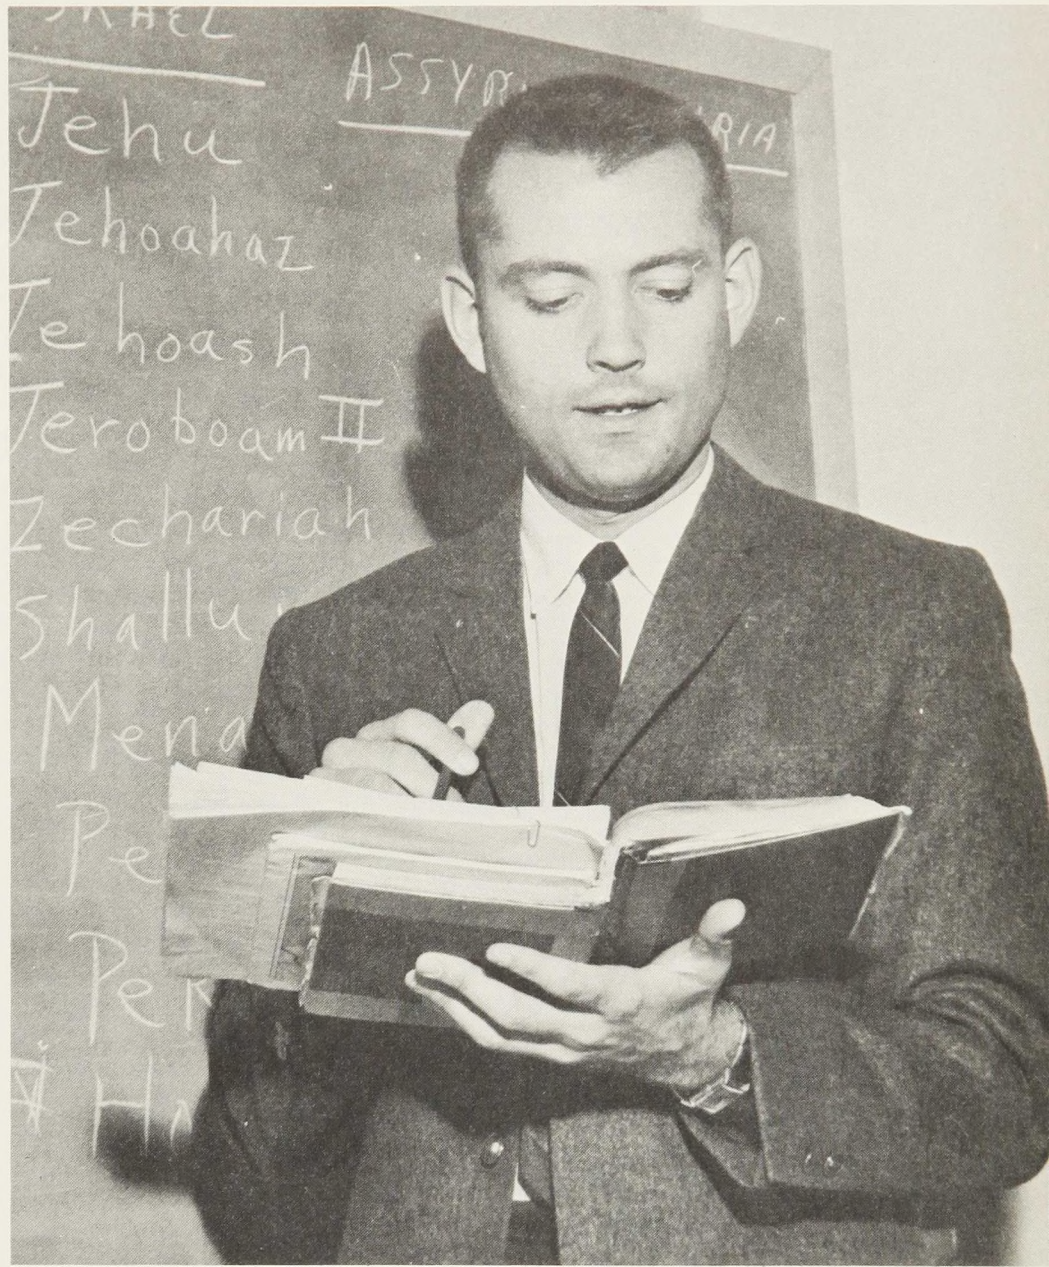

"The earth was without form and void . . .
And God said, 'Let there be light';
and there was light." (Genesis 1:2-3)

Man cannot conceive of an absolute beginning but neither can he refrain from imagining what his own beginning was like. The reason is found in his consciousness of birth, change, growth, and death.

But as curious as man becomes about his beginnings, he is far more serious about establishing meaning in his contemporary life. The search for permanence in the world of change leads to confusion and frustration more often than it does to a satisfying philosophy. The honest man, however, does not demand a heavenly vision; instead he would like to be certain that what he lives by is Truth. He wants to know that the truths he lives with are part of eternal Truth. He wants to lend his little life to the really lasting purposes of human existence.

So he asks to share in the faith of the ancients and of the good men and women of all time and to discover for himself that the knowledge he learns, whether in college or elsewhere, is part of the same gift of Light that cancelled out chaos in the story of Genesis. In that faith he can understand the seal of Bloomfield College, which bears the words, LUX IN TENEBRIS, and he will commit himself to taking God's light into the darkness around him.

Theodore A. Rath

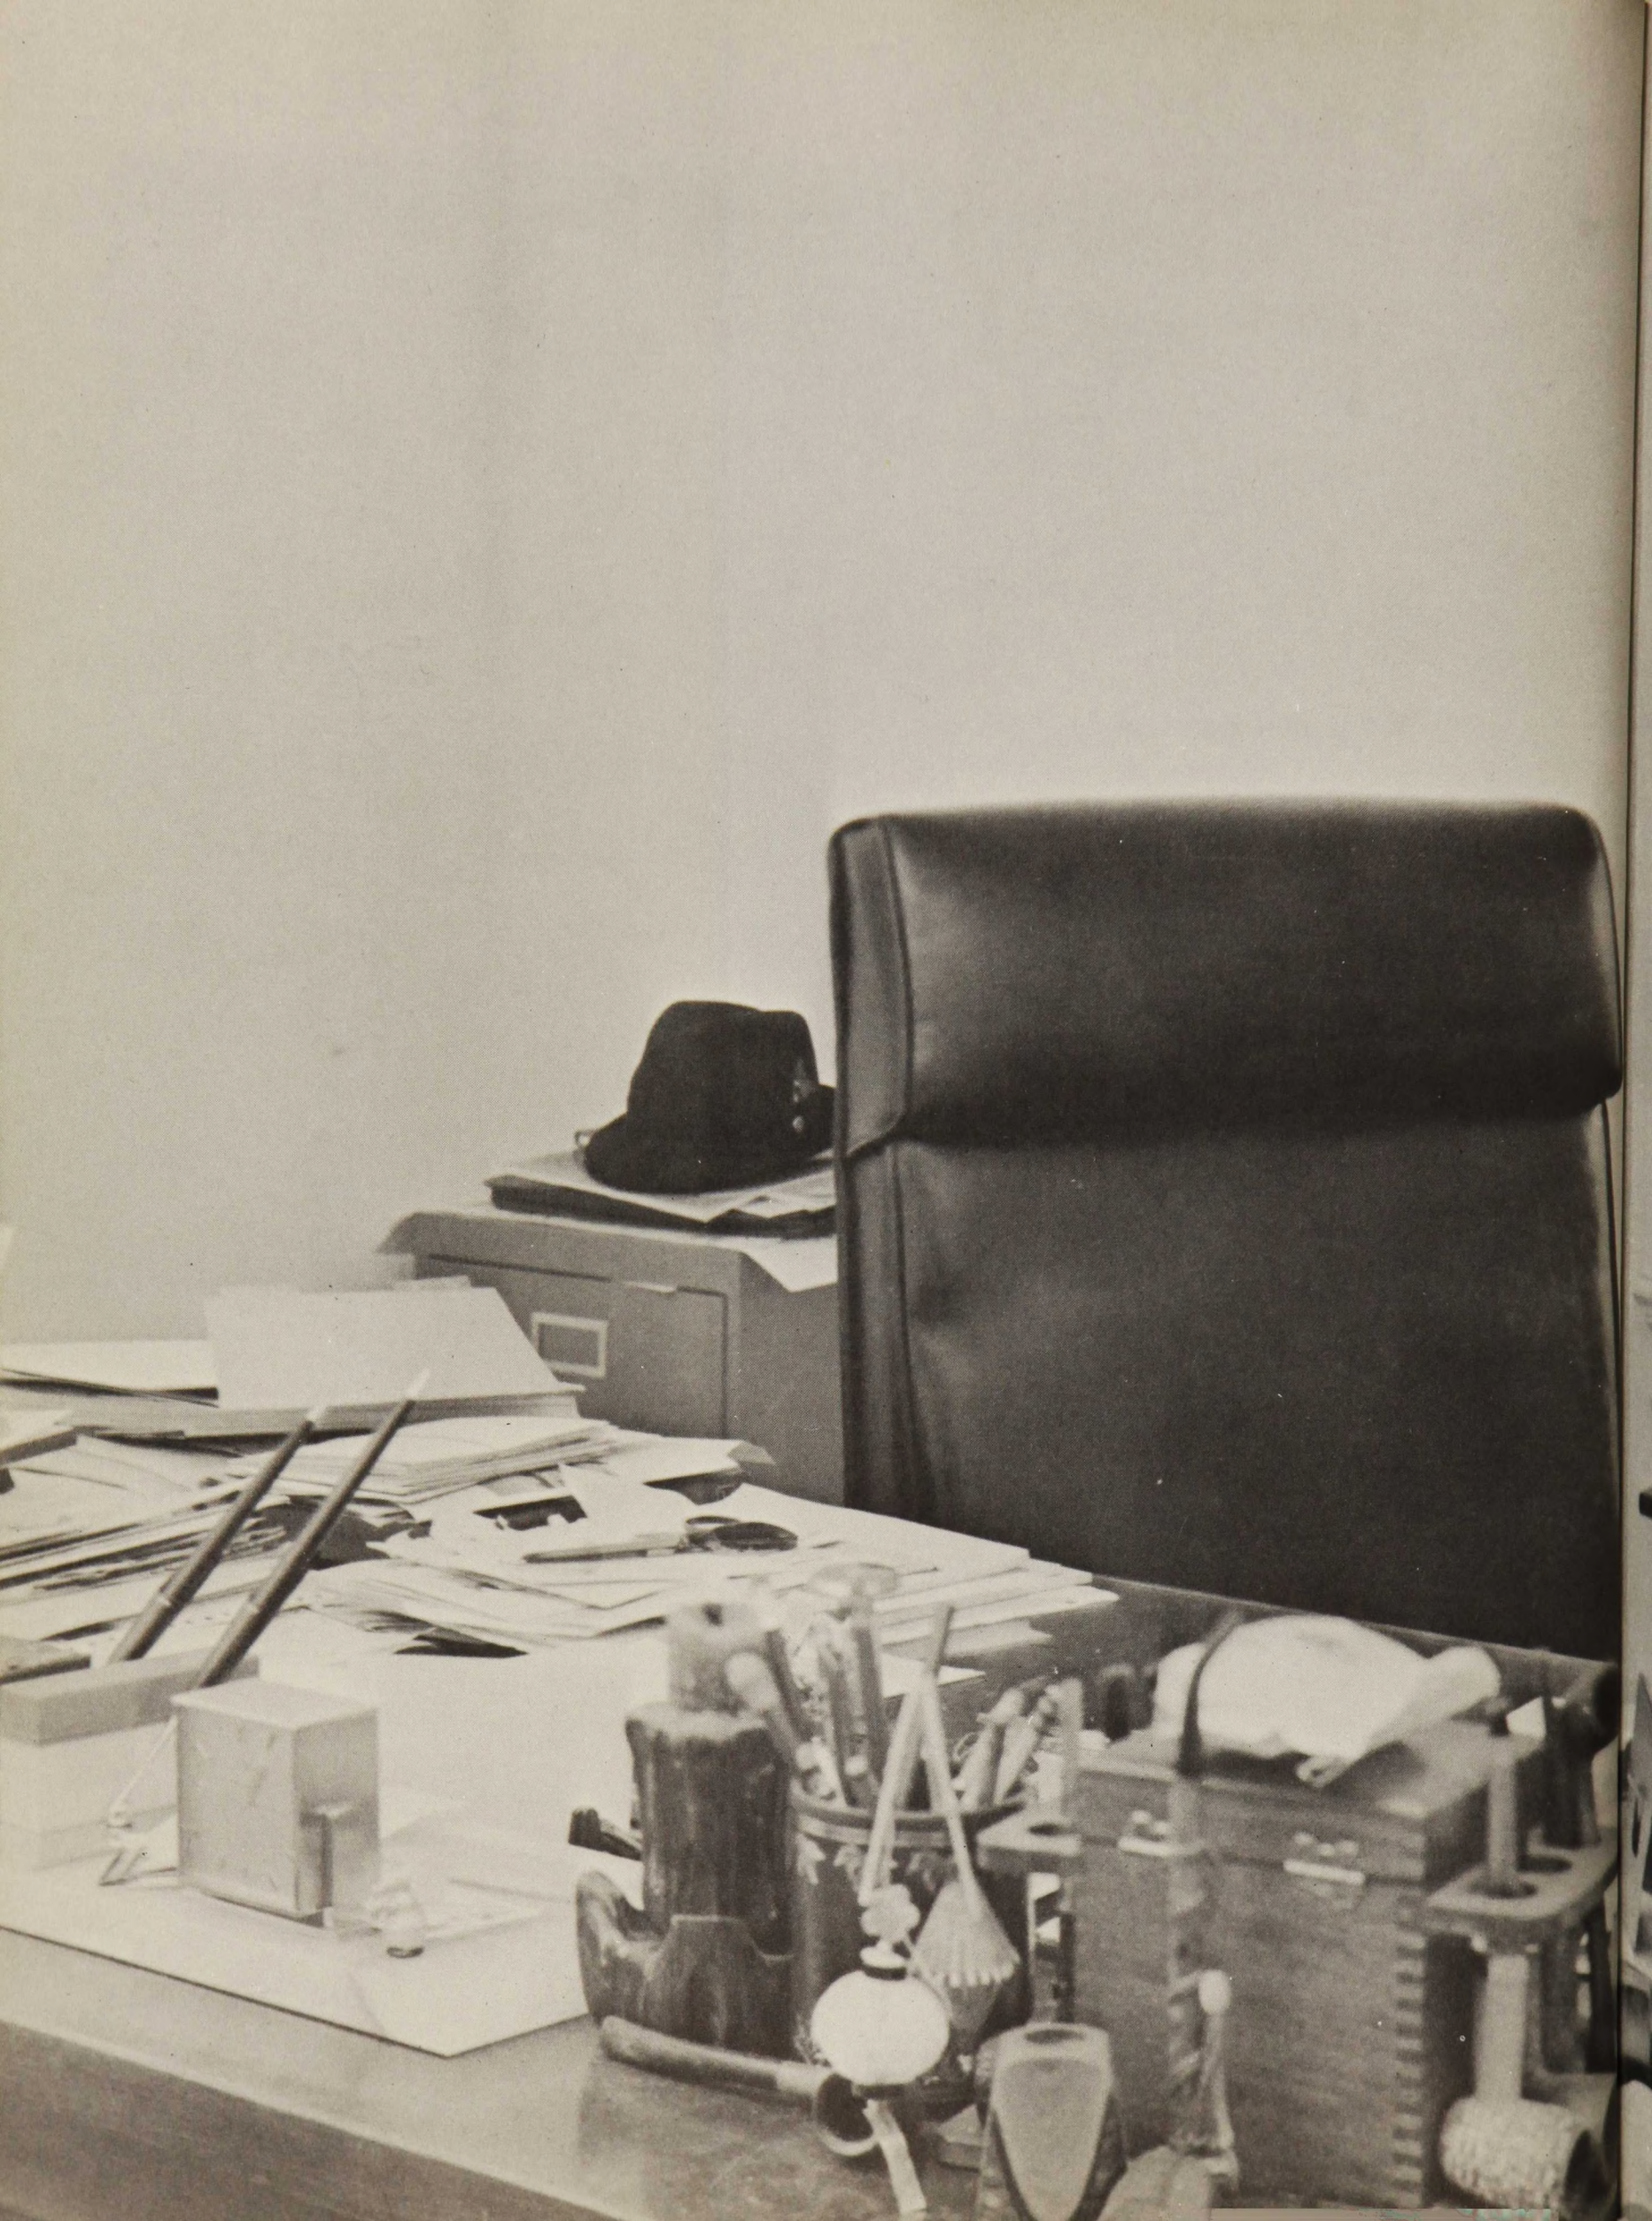

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1965

Your education has emphasized the purpose of knowledge as insight into the meaning of life. Your task is to use your knowledge in a world hungering for the meaning of existence. Pray that your knowledge may be used to provide a beginning to a meaningful world and not the beginning of the end for you.

In that which you now begin you have my sincerest good wishes.

The Business Department of Bloomfield College was first established for the academic year of 1950-51 under the supervision of Mr. John M. Woodbridge. The enrollment of this department for the first year of operation was forty students and the courses offered were Elementary Accounting and Elementary Business. As the years passed the faculty and curriculum of the Business Department grew with the enrollment. Today, the department has grown from one professor to a faculty of ten, headed by Professor Woodbridge. Men of industry also serve as part-time lecturers. The student enrollment has increased to eight times the original figure.

The department is switching from an emphasis on stereotype teaching to the case-study method. Courses in Industrial Production are unique in that students help to solve problems in some of the neighboring plants. In the future the department hopes to establish a teaching fellowship to permit Bloomfield College graduates to teach here while doing graduate work.

BIOLOGY

From three tables and thirty-six chairs in one room to the construction of a science building in the spring of 1965, the Biology Department has progressed. In this expansion of the Biology Department, as well as the other science departments of Physics and Chemistry, new courses have been added, additional sections of existing courses have been created, and new methods and materials are being used. With the emphasis on science in our country today, not only are more students taking Biology, Physics, and Chemistry courses in our college than ever before, but more are majoring in them. And the growth will continue as the new science building provides more facilities for classrooms and laboratories.

Created in 1961, the Department of Education has since developed into one of the larger departments on campus. Increasing from a staff of one to the present staff of three, the Department of Education now provides teacher preparation in seven major areas. Future plans include state authorization for at least three additional major areas and the enlarging of the department to four or five members as the sections in the present education courses increase.

As 1964-1965 continued the progress of the past three years, twenty-one prospective teachers were prepared for the teaching field this year, tripling last year's number. In the near future, with the increase in enrollment and experiences, relating the theoretical and practical aspects of teaching, and the adaptation of a sequenced program for education majors, many times this number will be prepared for the teaching profession.

The department of Economics offers courses of study in economic relationships and public policy. The curriculum is designed for those students who prefer a general college program with an emphasis on the economic relationships in business, both public and private, and in national and international organization. Economists are employed in government and business and industry to analyze the economic organization and to discover ways of increasing its effectiveness. Instructed by Mr. Alan Mackenzie Pope and Mr. Max T. Johns, the students are qualified for positions in research and as business executives.

Epitomizing the expansion of all the departments in Bloomfield College is the English and Speech Department. Its staff has the largest increase, from a two-man department to a department of nine members. Its courses show the greatest development, from two survey courses to twenty-two specialization courses.

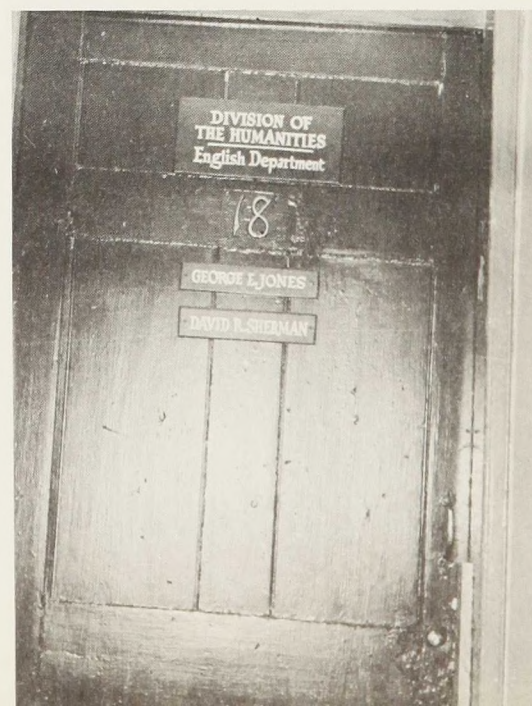

Within the last few years the department's growth has been marked not only in additional courses and professors but in sections of existing courses as well. Since a student's career hinges on his English ability, no halt to the expansion of the English and Speech Department is likely in the future.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

French

Mr. Clarence R. Fuller

Mr. Charles Shannon

As the world grows smaller, the demand for versatility in languages becomes greater. This may partially explain the growth in courses, student enrollment, and faculty in the Language Department. Beginning with one fundamental course in French, German, Greek, Latin, and Spanish, the Language Department has expanded to provide advanced courses with majors in French, German, and Spanish.

With the creation of a language laboratory in 1962, the understanding and proficiency of the students increased in the beginning courses as well as the intermediate ones. As the new science building becomes a reality, the Language Department hopes to expand its laboratory facilities so that more students may benefit from laboratory experience. The future contains State authorization and certification of a Bloomfield College teacher preparation program in French, German, and Spanish.

HISTORY

Mr. Harry T. Taylor

From a one man department, offering two courses, to a five man department, offering twenty courses, the History Department has grown over the last fifty years. As the number of students majoring in history increased, 1964-65 saw the creation of a branch of Phi Alpha Theta, the National Honor Society in History, on the campus of Bloomfield College. Expansion continues as the department hopes to add courses in the Far East and Middle East, in the near future, as well as additional professors to accommodate the increase of sections in the survey courses. In the immediate future, 1965-66, the History Department hopes to offer a course covering the American Revolution and its aftermath in celebration of the American Revolution's Centennial.

MATHEMATICS

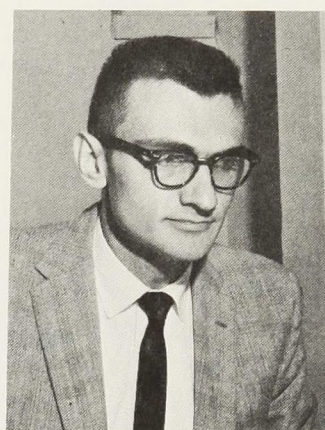

To suit the diversified needs of its students, the Mathematics Department offers many varied courses. A student who majors in Mathematics learns to analyze quantitative situations and to apply mathematical reasoning to their solution. After a rigorous study of fundamental concepts, the student may then pursue graduate work or may seek employment in teaching or in business and industry. This year, Mr. Paul Nagel, an alumnus of Bloomfield College, has been added as an instructor.

PHILOSOPHY

Dr. Elizabeth Ritchie

Dr. Harry K. Wells

From 1956, when only one course in philosophy was offered, to 1965 with eight courses being taught, the Philosophy Department has continually expanded. With the dangers of conformity and Communism looming overhead, philosophy courses have become more popular as students realize more than ever the importance of knowing how to think. Since 1963, philosophy luncheons have been taking place once a month to discuss philosophical topics relating to current world situations. As the sections in philosophy expand, the future staff of the department will enlarge to accommodate the increased enrollment.

Mr. Thomas R. G. Evans

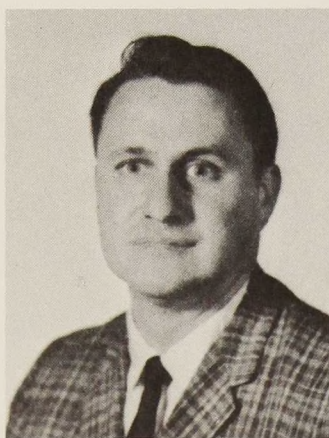

From a beginning of two introductory courses and one professor, the Religion Department has been enlarged to its present size of six professors, teaching twenty courses in religion. Though the Department of Religion, itself, was born only in 1961, it already boasts a number of students majoring in religion, predominately pre-theological students.

As students become more interested in expanding religion courses, the department will accommodate them. In the near future, plans call for more specialization courses primarily in the Far East religions.

SOCIOLOGY

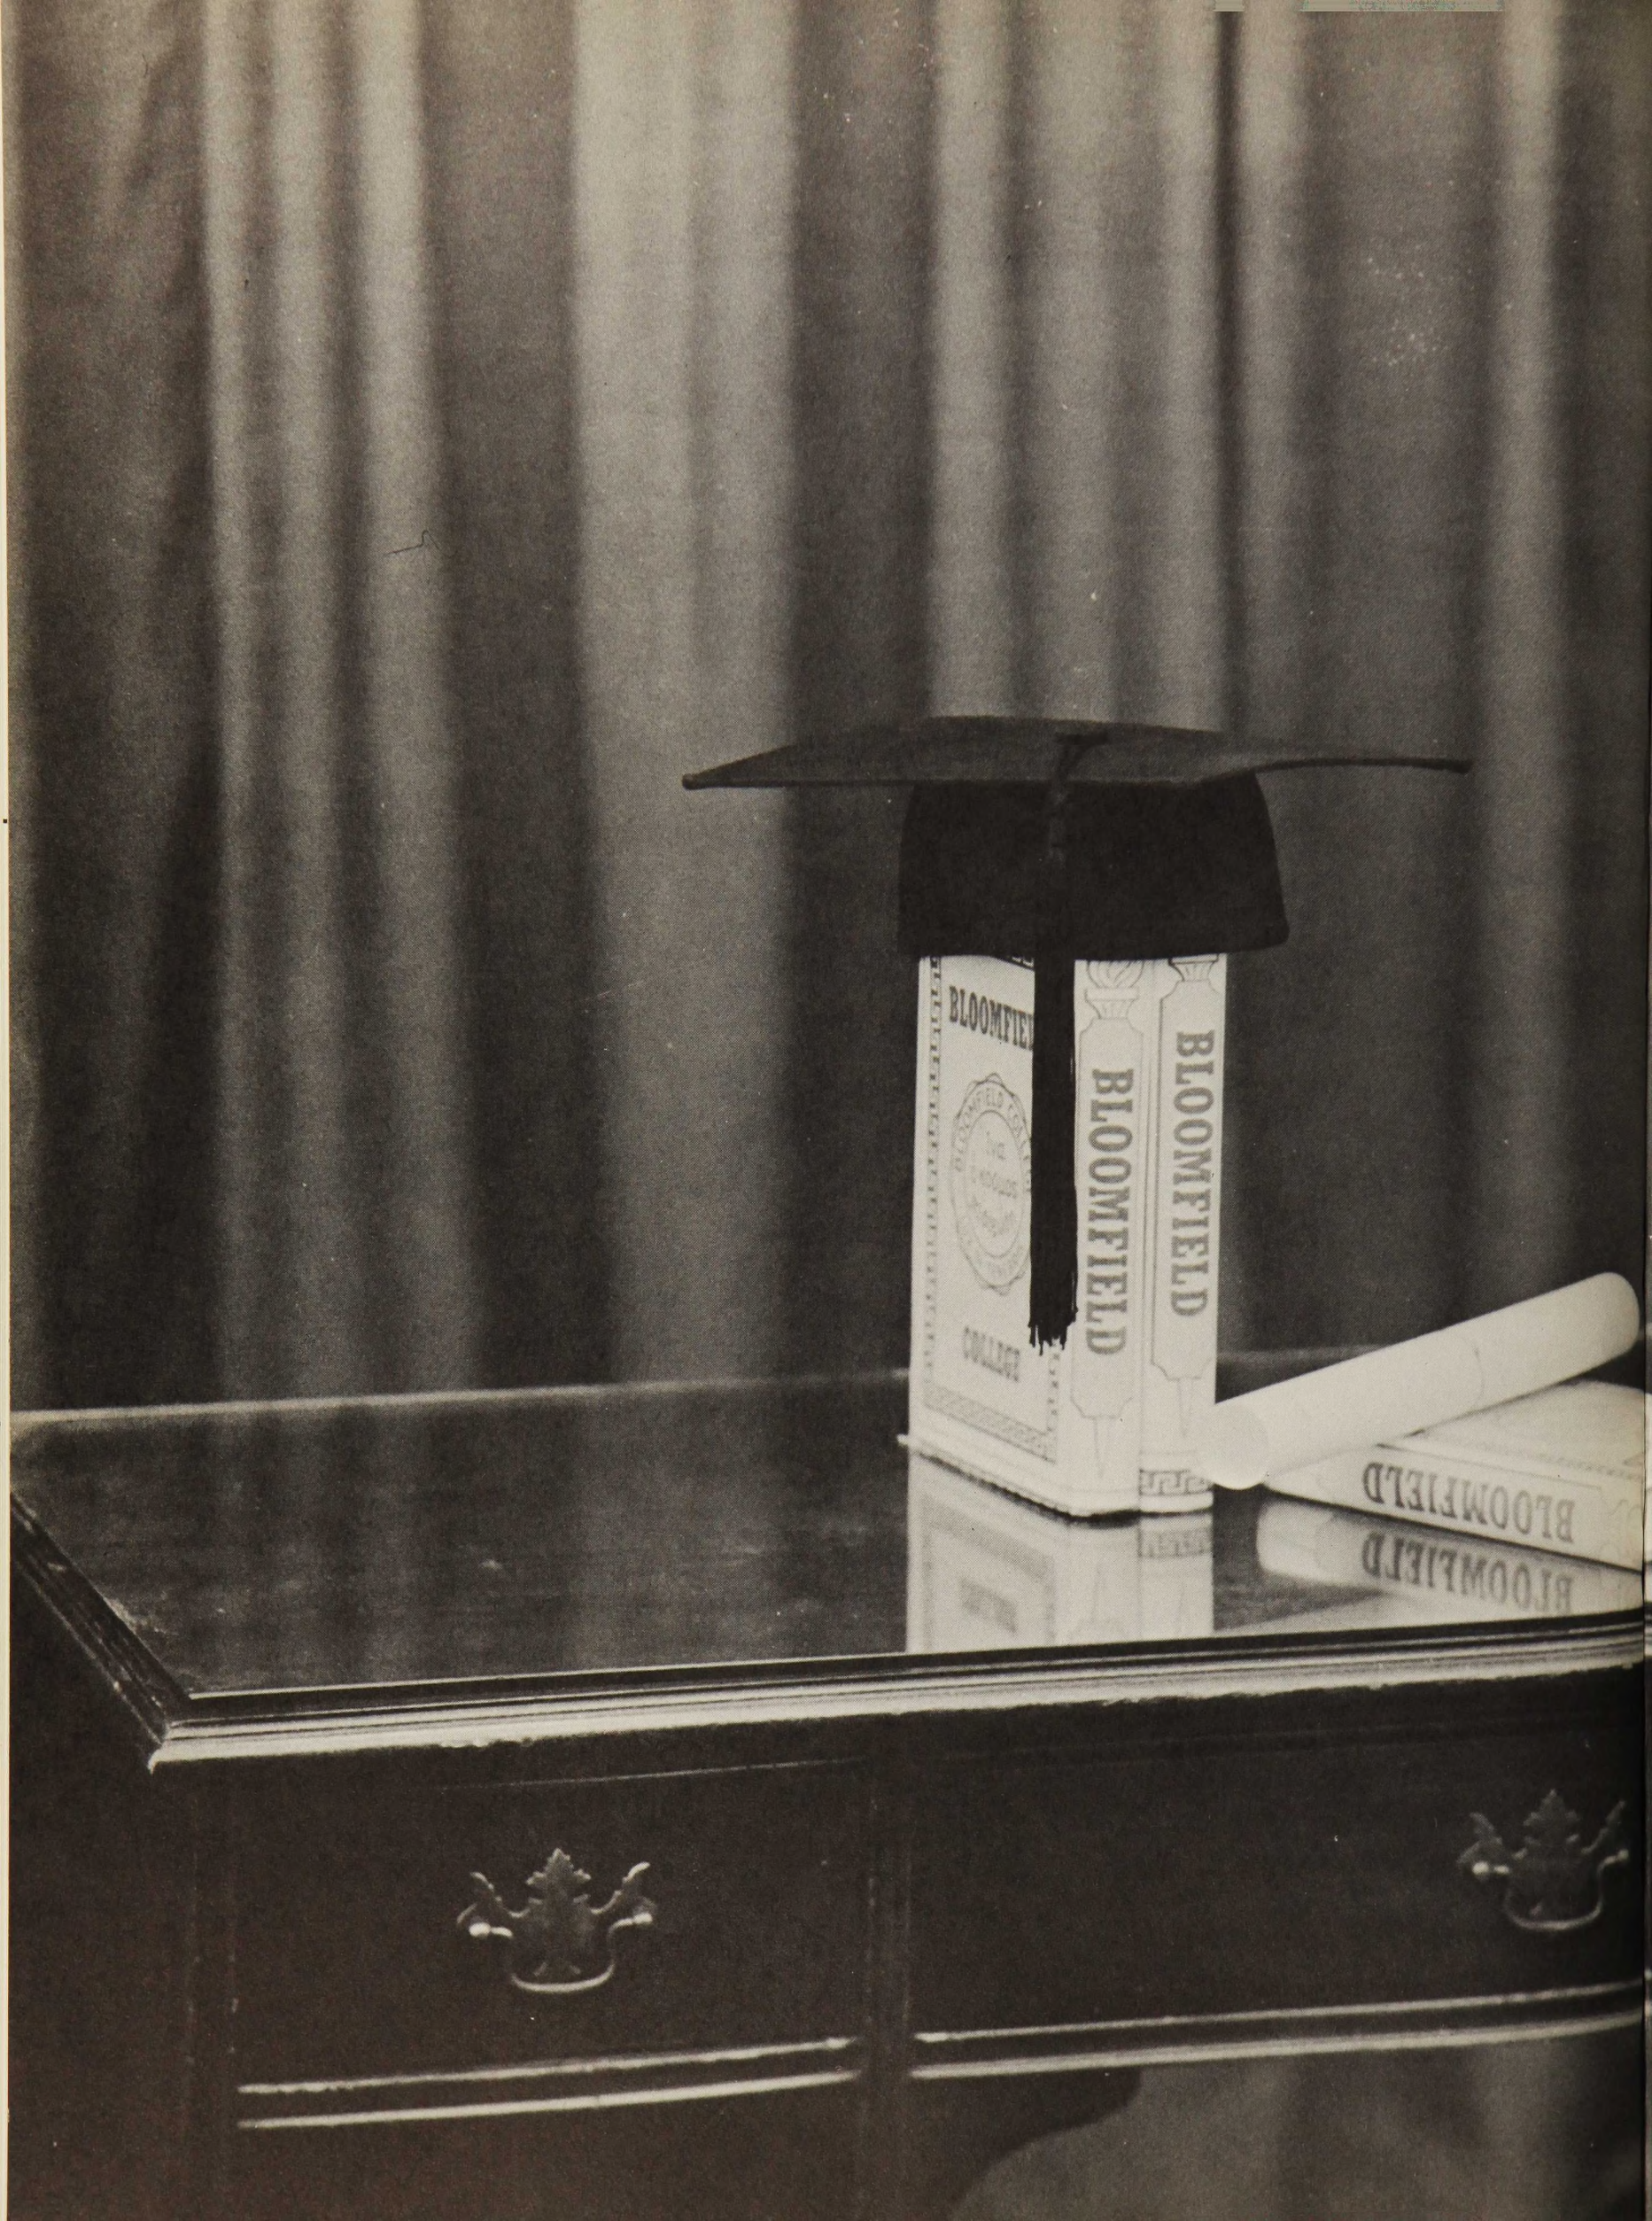

Mr. H. Leon Abrams Jr.

Mr. Edward C. Jager

Sociology provides a background for the student in acquiring and understanding both the values of our society and their significance, and an appreciation of the worth of the individual. Sociology serves as a major background for pre-law, pre-theology, social work of all types, personnel work, recreational work, work with service organizations, and other vocations which involve understanding on the group level. Field trips and other educational trips correlate with the classroom work in the study of culture and social patterns.

SOCCKER

Each fall season many young men develop individual skills, bring the body into proper muscle tone by strenuous physical exercise, and then are molded into a single unit by the coach.

While each man holds onto his own identity the success of the whole depends upon the integration of the part into the whole. There are moments of glory but behind these moments are hours of hard work and intricate planning. Physical activities such as Soccer develop another part of man which at their conclusion make him a better individual.

This has been a most profitable year for the members of the Soccer team who concluded their season by capturing second place in the Central Atlantic College Conference. Sincere thanks are expressed to all those who worked so diligently.

BASKETBALL

The large score clock showed no minutes left in the game. This was the end of the season.

With the preparation and the display of skill each man becomes part of the team working as a unit. This has been obvious to those who have watched the Basketball team blend into a balanced scoring unit. The team finished the season with the entire starting five in double figures, and the championship of the Central Atlantic College Conference.

BASEBALL

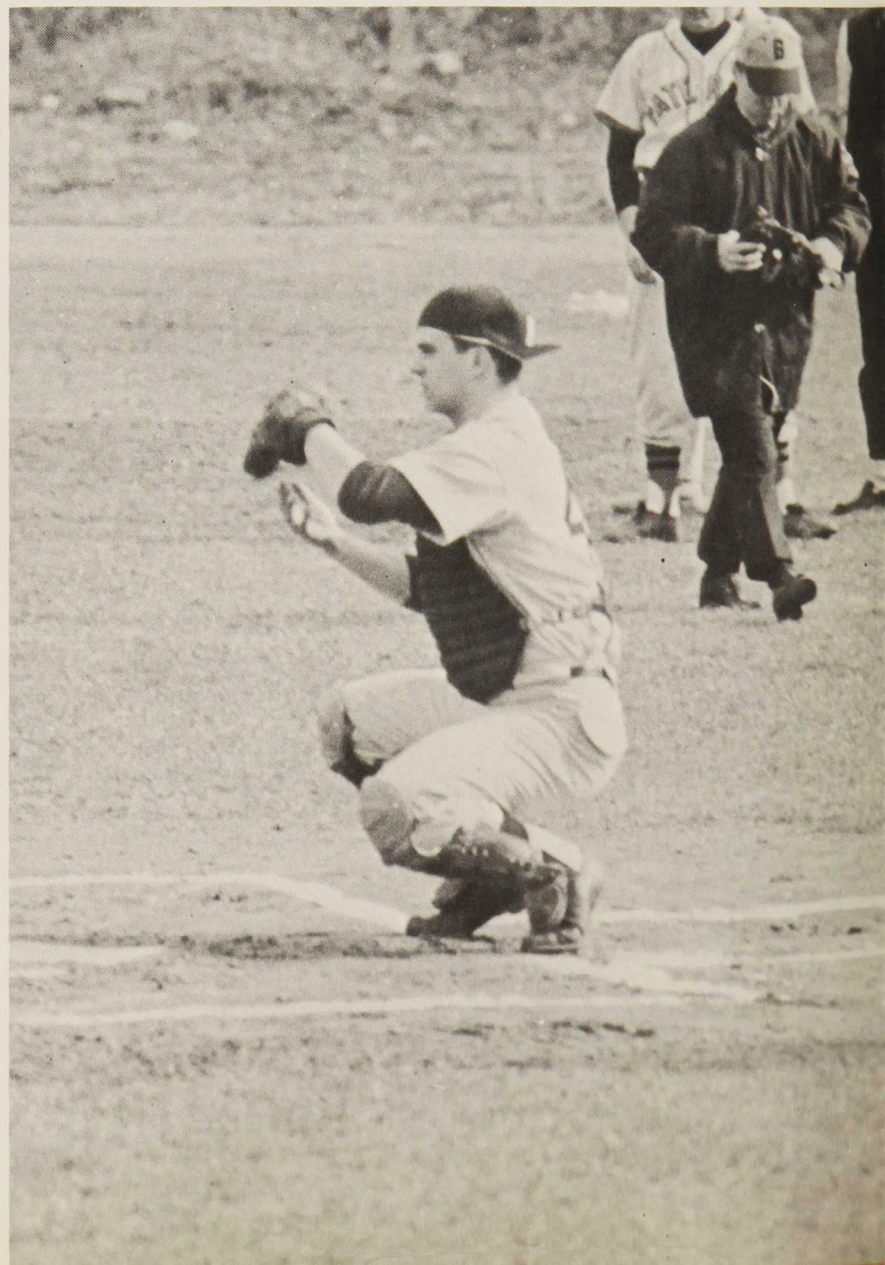

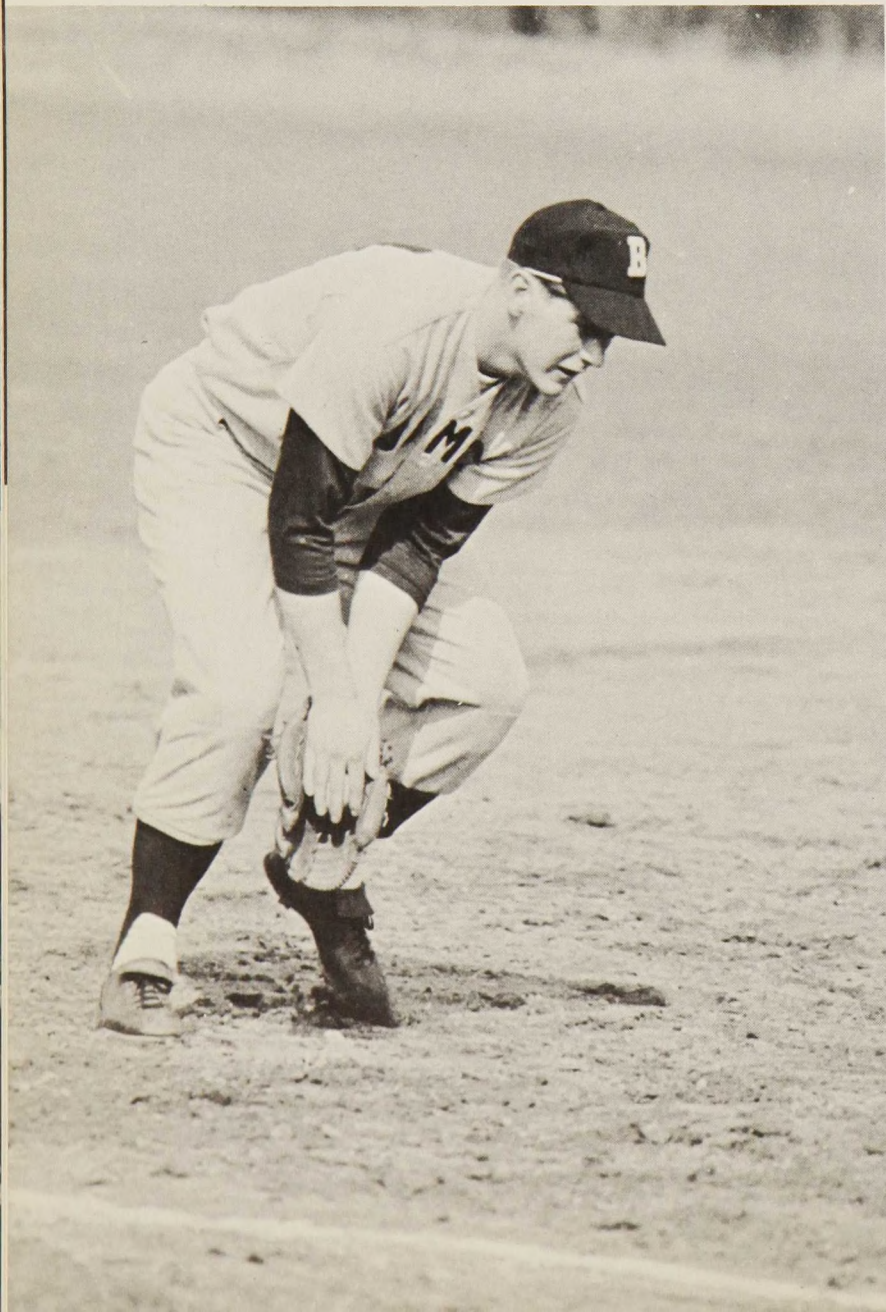

After completing three games, the Deacons have won two and lost one. The team has been involved in three very exciting and close games. The team has come from behind to win their last two games after losing a close one-run decision to Paterson State in extra innings.

The team is being molded into an effective unit by working and pulling together with serious determination.

GOLF

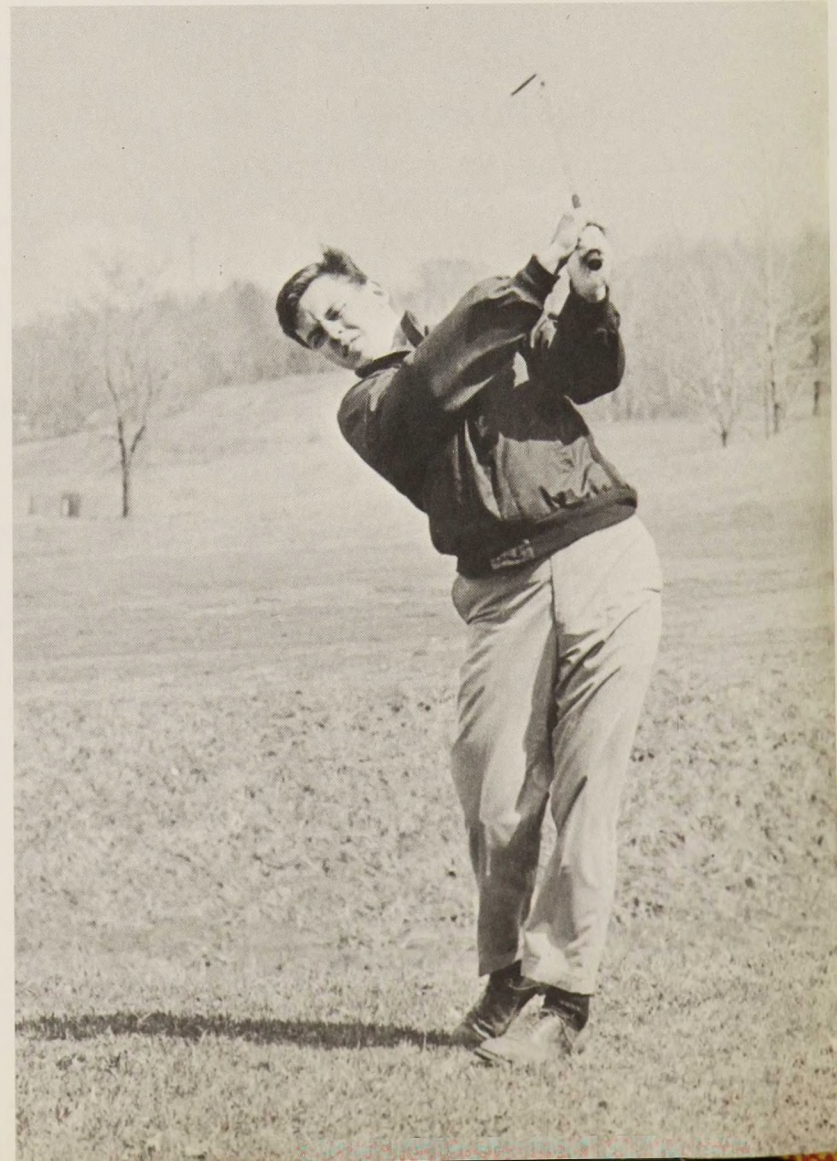

The Bloomfield College Golf Team under Captain Robert Simmonds, and Richard Boschen have a very difficult task ahead this season. There will be the Metropolitan Championship to defend in May with keen competition expected from many of the colleges in the area.

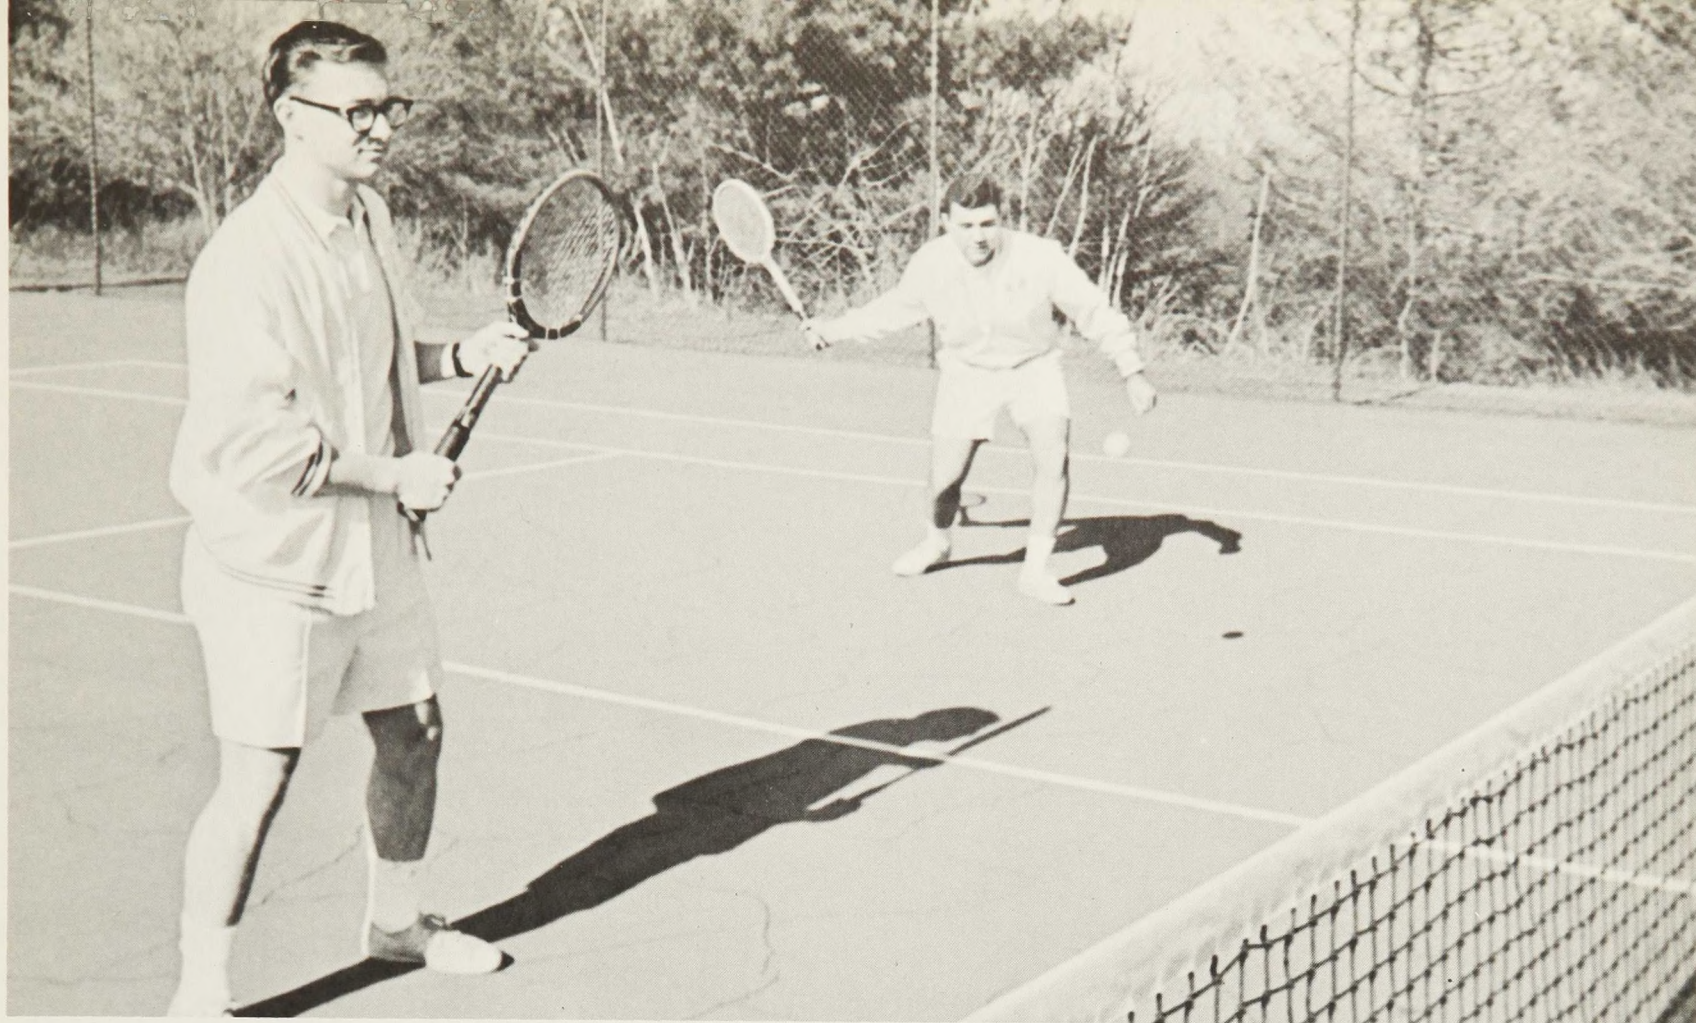

The prospects of a successful season look bright with the addition of new freshmen players.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT AND CLUBS

BLOOMFIELD COLLEGE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The aims and purposes of the many must be expressed through the few whose responsibility it is to lead. It is not always possible to visualize future goals, but responsible leadership knows how to guide student energies into fruitful and beneficial programs. The Bloomfield College Student Association has developed into the voice of the student. Through the B.C.S.A., the student has been made aware of his responsibility to the college community of which he is a part.

The B.C.S.A. is composed of five duly elected officers, appointed officers, and class officers and senators. To these people falls the responsibility of good student government. These leaders have served well and leave to others new fields of conquest, new vision and purpose on which to build.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

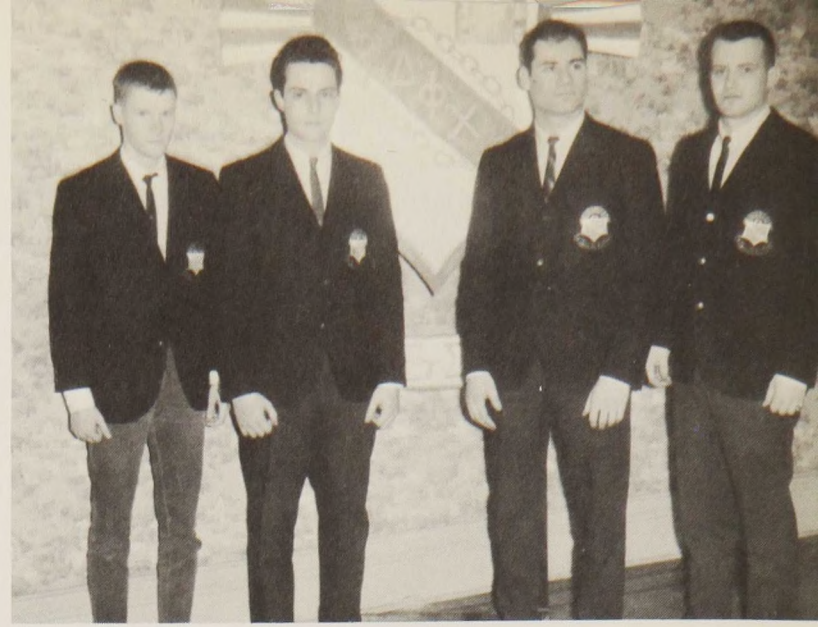

Interfraternity Open House

DELTA PHI CHI

The red arm bands worn on campus have been a familiar sight to us at Bloomfield. Each spring we have seen many of the college men pledging to Delta Phi Chi, "the Fraternity for Active Young College Men."

Under the leadership of Frank Moschella, Delta Phi Chi received the Lester Clee Award for having the highest cumulative academic average among the fraternities on campus.

Treasurer: James Dickerson
Advisor: Mr. John Furtney
President: Allen Lupinacci
Vice-President: Richard Cherchio

PHI DELTA BETA

A new fraternity has been formed on our campus. Under President Paul Moyer, Phi Delta Beta is a social fraternity designed to promote the general welfare and harmony of the college.

Although new to our campus, Phi Delta Beta has achieved a good reputation and will be very active on our campus in the days ahead.

RHO SIGMA DELTA

President: Richard Boschen
Vice-President: Richard Silipigni

Rho Sigma Delta, under President Richard Boschen, has been an example of service and social betterment on our campus. The brothers of Rho Sigma Delta have endeavored to be of service to the college, and have, through their leaders, been a good example to the community.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

President: Kenneth Kreismeier
Secretary: Paul Komisky
Treasurer: Walter Peters

Mr. John Woodbridge
Advisor

Alpha Kappa Psi is the only national professional fraternity on our campus. The aims of Alpha Kappa Psi are to "further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance; and to promote . . . in institutions of college rank, courses leading to degrees in business administration." This is not just a motto, but is held in truth by actual practice.

SIGMA THETA CHI

The sisters of Sigma Theta Chi have evolved into a very active group on campus. They have held many activities this year, at one of which they presented toys and books to the children in the Essex County Children's Shelter.

Jinx Talley provided creative leadership this year for the sorority and deserves our thanks and appreciation.

The beginning days of any project bring forth many high and lofty ideals which, at the completion of the project, may or may not have been fulfilled. This certainly was true of the Saga staff as they met to plan out the year ahead. Many long hours were put into the preparation of this annual. Deep gratitude must be expressed to all of the faithful workers who gave so much of their time.

MINUTEMAN

Editors-in-Chief
 Ronald Chiarello
 Barbara Cristodoro
 Treasurer: C. Bert Robinson
 Advisor: Dr. George Jones

The Minuteman is becoming an important voice of the students on our campus. The staff has been under the able leadership of Ron Chiariello and Barbara Cristodoro. With the development of the Minuteman toward better news coverage, the students have been presented with a newspaper worthy of this college.

GERMAN CLUB

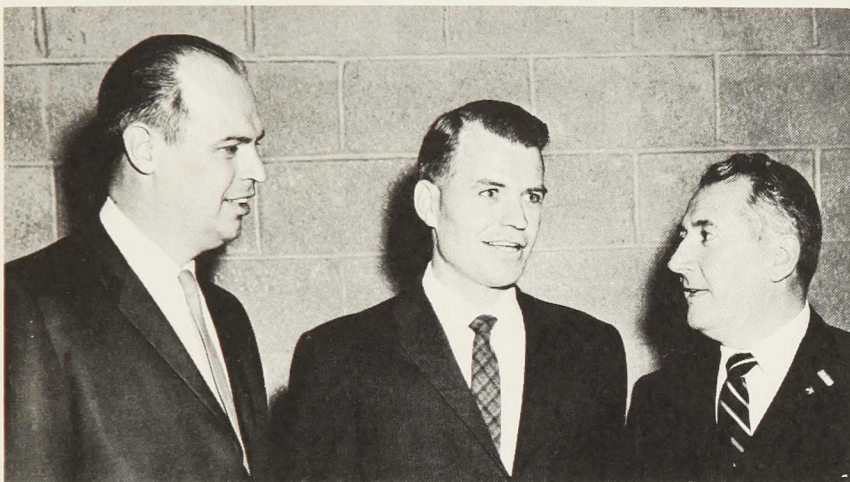

President: Robert White

Advisor: Mrs. Jautrite Salins

ARTS AND SCIENCE CLUB

The Arts and Science Club had a diversified program with a political debate, magic show, films and projects in the community. Students were not only entertained but benefited intellectually as well. Many of the students have attended the meetings.

*President: George Pope
Vice-President: William Holzhauser
Secretary: Marjorie Hiler
Treasurer: Patrick Novak
Advisor: Mr. William Simon*

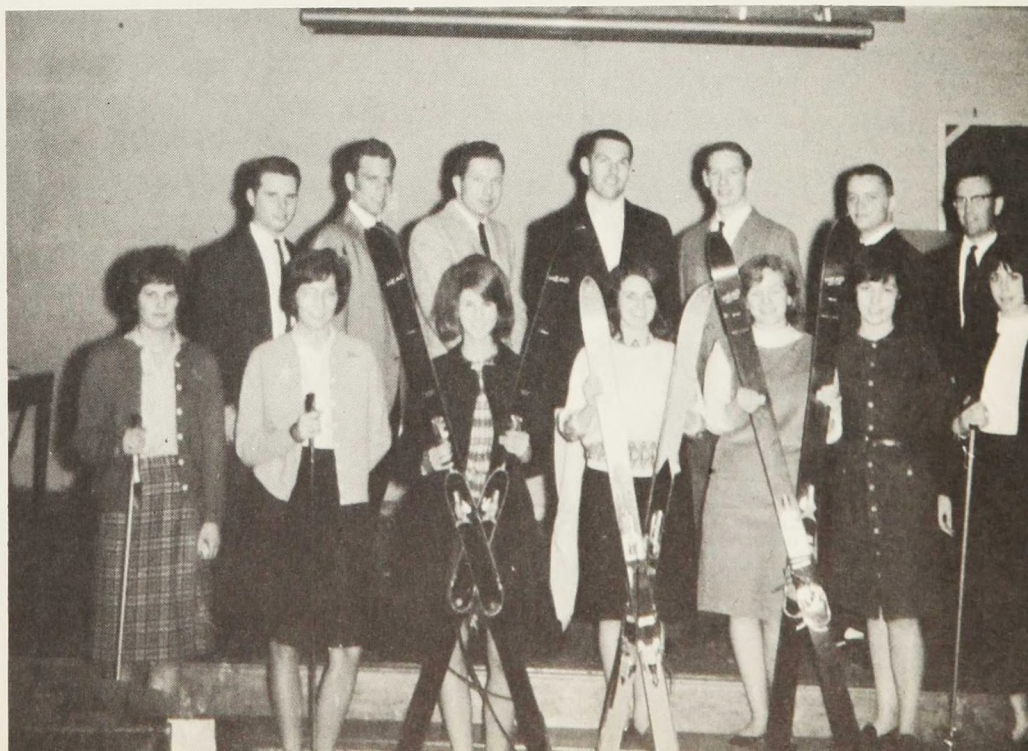

SKI CLUB

*President: Walter Burton
Secretary: Judith Leek
Treasurer: Patricia Novak
Advisor: Mr. Albert Tomlinson*

The beauty of a snow covered mountain, the feeling of meeting a challenge, the sense of belonging, these are some of the feelings of the members of the Ski Club. Walt Burton, as President, has planned programs that were in a very real sense, beneficial to the members.

Trips were taken to Vermont, Mt. Snow, and other places in this area during this past winter.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

President: Jose Manduley
Vice-President: Peter Bishop
Secretary: Jackie Volz
Corresponding Secty.: Jane Knothe
Advisor: Dr. Lester Mason

Because of the interest of so many of the students in foreign affairs, and because many are interested in the entire world, the International Club has developed into an organization of great importance. Not only was it possible to visit many lands through the medium of film, but because of the many foreign students on campus, first hand observations were possible. Jose Manduley, the President, guided the group into various fruitful areas of discussion.

CIRCLE K CLUB

The Kiwanis International has always done an outstanding job wherever it has located. Its history is one of selfless giving for the betterment of men everywhere. The Circle "K" Club has been organized for this same purpose on our campus. Al Stanzione and Tom Walker led the club which sponsored a Faculty-Student basketball game in March. The proceeds have been given to the Athletic Department for the construction of a trophy case in the lobby of the gymnasium.

President: Robert Mays
Vice-President: Al Stanzione
Secretary: George Grey
Treasurer: David Smith
Advisor: Dr. Thomas Wilson

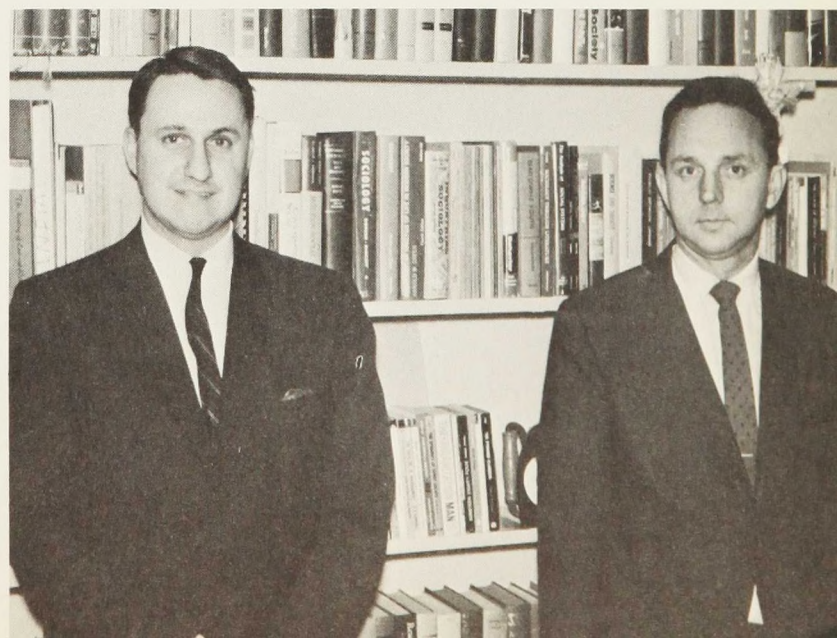

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

As one grows in experience one comes to realize the importance of human relationships. To understand and accept one another is a difficult task for each of us. On our campus a club has developed that has as its purpose making the student aware of social developments which affect our world. The Sociology Club has assisted us as students looking out upon a world that is troubled with strife and looking into ourselves for strength of purpose to make this a better world in which to live.

President: Steven Moore
Vice-President: Michael McCree
Secretary: Amekia Christodoulou
Treasurer: Ronald Klein
Advisor: Mr. H. Leon Abrams

STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

For those looking toward a future of teaching, the Student Education Association prepares one for the profession by guidance and instruction in methods of teaching, by planned activities which will orientate the student in the duties of the professional teacher. Available to the students are vast resources of experience and techniques through the national organization.

President: Patricia Cardamone
Vice-President: Madge Dunsing
Secretary: Kathy Reynolds
Treasurer: Carolyn Custy
Advisor: Dr. Alden Carr

COMMUTER WOMEN'S CLUB

When a major part of the student body commute to school some provision should be made to allow them to have a united voice on school affairs. Then too, because of the fact that they are off campus for a better part of the time, the students often do not fully see the major developments that arise within the program of the college. For those who are commuter women, the Commuter Women's Club seeks to allow them to become an integral part of campus life and activities.

President: Marie Blume Reitz
Vice-President: Jane Van Handel
Secretary: Madge Dunsing
Treasurer: Barbara Hilpert

TOURING CHOIR

Director of Music: Mr. Clyde J. Holt

The Touring Choir is probably the most active student organization on campus. They are heard each week during chapel services; they have regularly scheduled concerts in the area, and also have at least one extended tour every year. Under the direction of Mr. Clyde J. Holt, the Choir has grown in size and in quality of sound. The students have worked very hard to develop into a good musical unit.

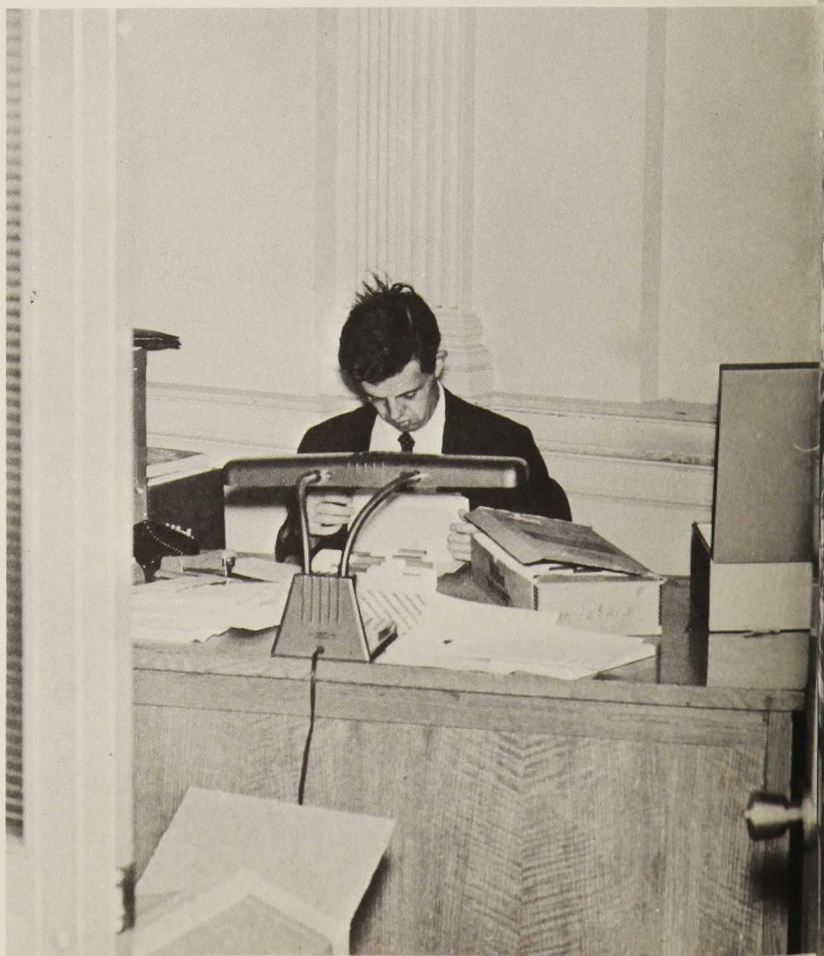

The purpose of the Society for the Promotion of Better Human Understanding is concern for better human relations among all races, colors, creeds, and nationalities. Its aim is to make the students of Bloomfield College aware of the problems confronting our country and the world, and to try to help them develop positive attitudes toward all peoples.

The program includes discussions of vital social problems, films, guest speakers, and active participation in civic affairs.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

ZETA MU CHAPTER

Professional Fraternity in Business

On June 7, 1964, at a ceremony held at a Newark hotel, we were formally installed as Zeta Mu Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Now, almost one year later, we can look back and recount the many rewarding experiences we have had during our first year as an active chapter.

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to those with whom we had dealings for their kind cooperation in making the year a successful one.

And now, to the class of 1965, let us extend sincere wishes for the future.

To the members of the Class of 1966:

We the Class of 1965 extend our sincerest wishes for a profitable year of learning and doing. May each hour be spent in that which is worthwhile. We hope that you will find direction and meaning to life as you continue to search for knowledge. We trust that you will, as examples to those under you, lead into new areas hitherto uncharted here at Bloomfield.

To the members of the Class of 1965.

"And an astronomer said, Master, what of Time?

And he answered:

You would measure time the measureless and the immeasurable.

You would adjust your conduct and even direct the course of your spirit according to hours and seasons.

Of time you would make a stream upon whose bank you would sit and watch its flowing.

Yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness,

And knows that yesterday is but today's memory and is today's dream.

And that which sings and contemplates in you is still dwelling within the bounds of that first moment which scattered the stars into space.

Who among you does not feel that his power to love is boundless?

And yet who does not feel that very love, though boundless, encompassed within the centre of his being, and moving not from love thought to love thought, nor from love deeds to other love deeds?

And is not time even as love is, undivided and spaceless?

*But if in your thought you must measure time into seasons, let each season encircle
all the other seasons,*

And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing."

Gibran—The Prophet

You have measured your time well at Bloomfield, for that we are most grateful.
